For a Great British Experience...

...choose the dedicated venue group ranked #1 by independent customer feedback

Sundial Group's superb, dedicated conference centers have over forty years' experience accommodating meetings, conferences and training sessions from all over the world. See what makes Britain great by exploring the delightful countryside surrounding our major cities.

In their beautiful settings, Sundial's venues provide state-of-the-art facilities and serve award-winning cuisine prepared using local ingredients. There are teambuilding activities on-site as well, and an exclusive offer of free use of these until 03/31/2010 means your budget will stretch that little bit further this fall...

VenueVerdict

VenueVerdict is an independent customer feedback and benchmarking system managed by BDRC. It incorporated approximately 200 UK meeting venues in 2008, including leading UK hotel brands, independent hotels and specialist conference centres. The league table rankings are determined by reviews submitted immediately following an event.

It doesn't matter where I choose It's just a meeting room, right?

Wrong!

The choice of venue will make or break your event. Lots of locations promote 'meeting facilities', but few are able to deliver a distraction-free environment and offer the support of a dedicated team that understands the needs of delegates and planners.

If your event is a serious business event, give it the importance it deserves by choosing a specialist conference venue. All of our meeting rooms are exactly that – meeting rooms. That means they have suitable furniture, natural daylight, top-of-the-range equipment and free WiFi access.

Your meeting won't be an alternative revenue stream that we'll squeeze into our bar or restaurant, it'll be our top priority – and you'll feel the difference instantly.
